Foreword

Nampa High School gives an opportunity for a varied education:

Through participation in student government, assemblies, class activities, organizations, music, and social functions, the student develops leadership, responsibility, and individuality.

Through instruction by experienced faculty, expert counseling facilities, and a wide variety of courses, the student develops intellectually.

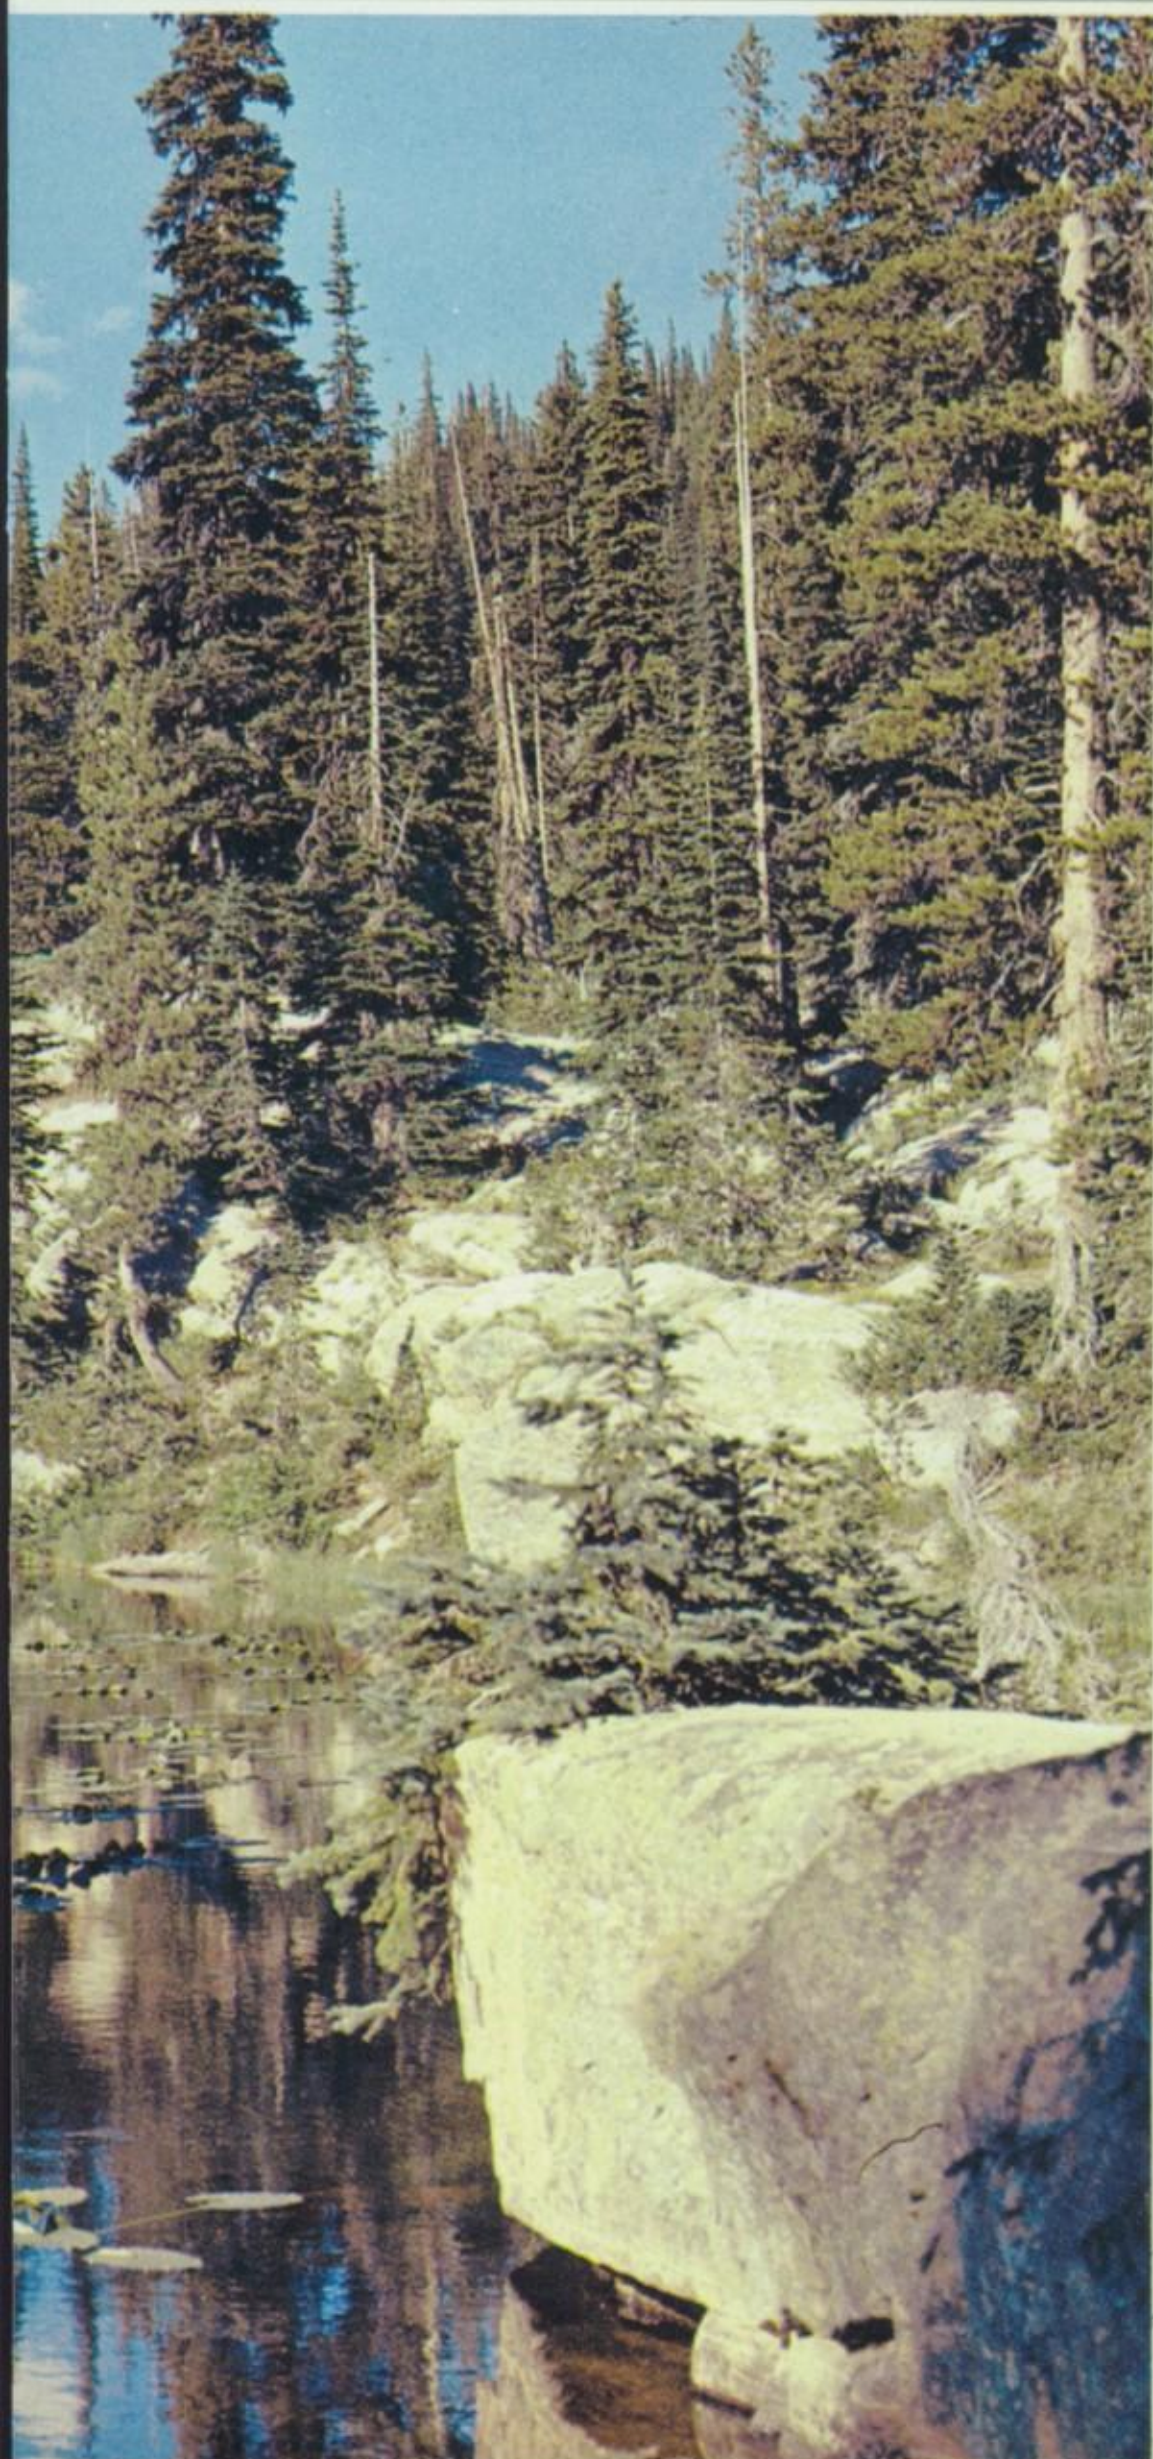

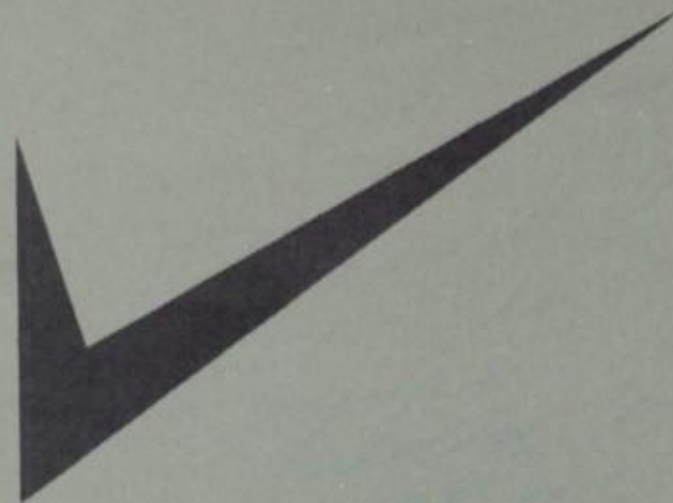

Through sports and competition, the student develops character, stamina, and sportsmanship.

Hi Bonnie
 It has been nice knowing you and
 having you in Home Ec
 #1 with me. You have been fun working with. You have also been a real good friend to me since I have been here.
 May God Bless you
 I hope you have a good wedding and a happy marriage. A friend
 Dianne

In Dedication

Evelyn Hagelin

The Foreign Language Department is important at Nampa High School. Many teachers work at broadening student understanding of other countries through the study of Foreign Languages.

A person well known in this field for her devotion is Miss Evelyn Hagelin.

We Honor Her

- for patient guidance in the French and the Latin languages.
- for assisting the students with problems that arise.
- for further assistance as advisor to F.L.S.
- for the part she plays in perfecting the knowledge of language at Nampa High.

Student Life

Senior girls move patiently through the registration line.

Senior boys get reacquainted while waiting for registration blanks.

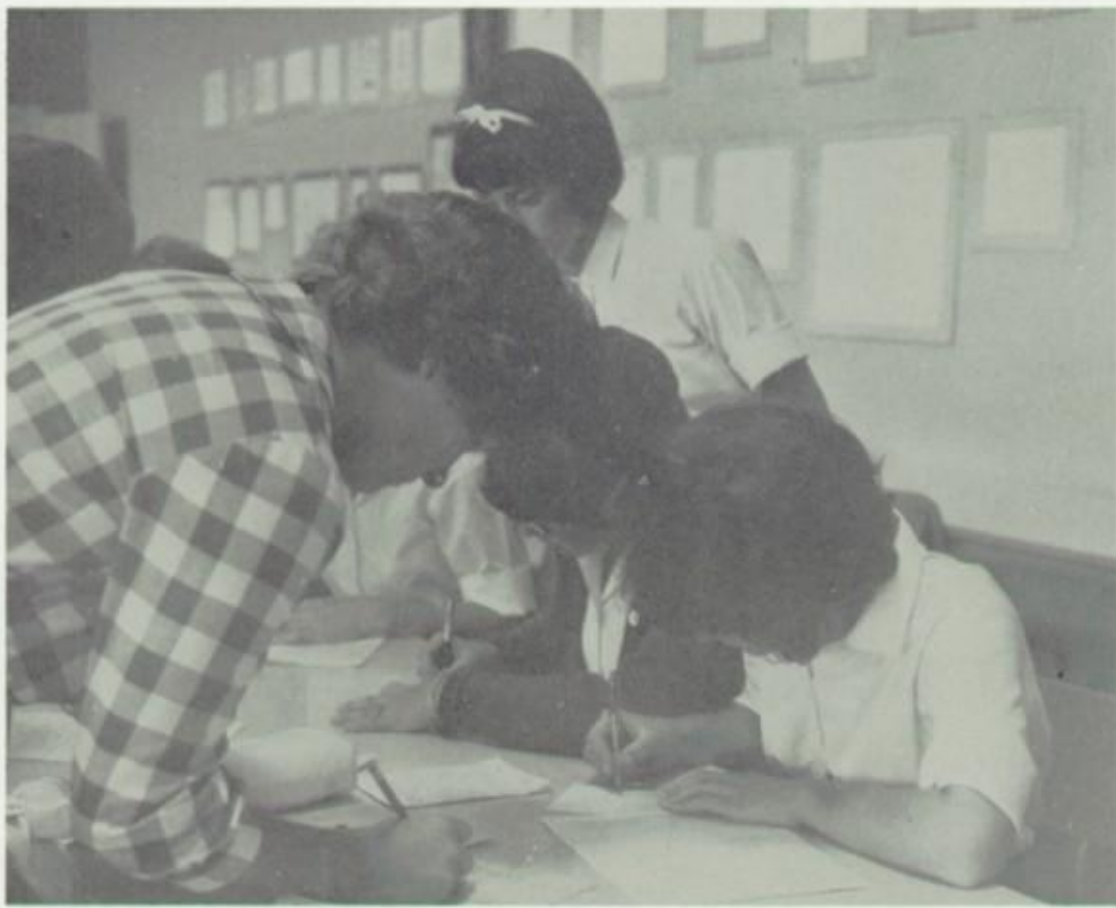

Last minute corrections must be made before turning in the registration cards.

Vicki Chapin carefully checks registration cards before filing them.

Doors Open for Registration

Jessica Dunbar, one of the many students helping during registration, assists these girls in filling out enrollment blanks.

Seniors struggle through many forms that must be completed for registration.

In late August, Nampa High School is alive with activity. At this time, seniors, juniors and sophomores register for the ensuing year. Under the direction of the student body officers, many seniors and juniors assist at registration. After filling out enrollment blanks, students may purchase the yearbook, directories, class publications, and pay class and organization dues. On sophomore and junior registration days, individual pictures are taken for the school yearbook. After these experiences, students are well prepared to start the new school year.

Nampa High Welcomes Its

Mr. Steck and Dave Wisenor, Student Body President, show Elio Rostagno, the foreign exchange student, around the high school campus.

Elio Rostagno and his fellow students study during Advanced Math class.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes watch as Elio, Stanley, and Ron do their studies.

Foreign Exchange Student

On the night of March 6, 1964, Nampa High School and the Nampa Lions Club sponsored an International Dinner. Featured at the dinner were foods and entertainment characteristic of various countries. With full support of the community the project netted $2500.00, which enabled a foreign student to study at Nampa High for one year.

The foreign student, seventeen year old

Elio Rostagno of Cuneo, Italy enrollment in September, 1964. While staying in Nampa, Elio lives with the Georges Haynes family.

In America Elio finds many things different from those in Italy. He is especially interested in science and would like to have a career in electronics or chemistry. His course this year consists of Advanced Math, Speech, Mechanical Drawing, Comprehensive Physics, Comprehensive Government, English IV.

The Hawaiian table at the International Dinner offered exotic foods.

Throngs of people such as these attended the International Dinner.

Student Government At Work

Mr. Neil Lindsey, President of the Nampa Booster Club informs the executive council of the club's goals.

An important force at Nampa High School is the student government. The two branches consist of executive and student councils, each with its specific duties.

The executive council is made up of student body, class officers, cheerleaders, president of club presidents, yearbook and newspaper editors. It is the duty of these people to plan the agenda for the student council meeting.

President Dave Wisenor opens another session of the executive council.

The student council is made up of the executive council, all club presidents, and home-room representatives. They discuss school problems and hear reports from clubs.

Student government creates school spirit, develops leadership, and coordinates extra curricular and co-curricular activities throughout the year.

Nampa High School governments function around the Honor Code. "Each person is responsible for his own actions and the actions of others when they infringe upon his rights."

Many students are in attendance at the first student council meeting of the year.

Assemblies Offer Enjoyment

At the first pep assembly the Spiz Club held a funeral for the old school spirit, and the lively new school spirit was presented.

Throughout the year the National School Assemblies present interesting and varied entertainment. Two champion ping pong players from England fascinated the student body with their agility. The Lee Sisters performed with a banjo and dancing. Rope tricks by another member also were given.

Mr. Harry G. Johnson from the Brown Foundation showed films and talked to an assembly about the development of science in the field of space. Various organizations and students present assemblies throughout the year. Y-Teens and Hi-Y members sponsored the Thanksgiving Assembly. Dr. John Riley from Northwest Nazarene College spoke on the meaning of Thanksgiving. The Christmas Assembly featured the choir, band, and Spizzettes. Nampa High hosted seventy Christmas travelers from the Union Pacific Railroad stranded in Nampa due to weather conditions.

Pep assemblies were held before football and basketball games to stimulate school spirit. The cheerleaders introduced new yells and Spiz, Key-Club, Blue N entertained students with skits. Also adding zest to the activities were the drill exhibitions of the Spizzettes. Other club sponsored assemblies were the National Honor Society Assembly, Debate Stunt Assembly, and the Senior Assembly.

During the pep assembly before the Nampa-Caldwell football game the students bubbled with enthusiasm.

Student body officers talk to Tex after the assembly titled "Tex Talks to Teens."

Mr. Harry Johnson, answered various questions after an assembly on space.

One of the colorful floats built by students for Homecoming, awaits the halftime parade.

The Homecoming dance sponsored by the Growl was the climax of the long week of activities.

Homecoming and Pep Activities

Pep activities are carried on throughout the school year to show the school's support of the team. This year school spirit was high, as shown by the numerous pep activities.

The Growl-sponsored homecoming week was the important activity during football season. This year the entire week before the game, the students participated in various events. It started with "Lick'em Day" with everyone licking lollipops. Next was "Smash'em Day" when students were given a chance to smash an old car representing Pokey, our opposition. The song, "Be True to Your School", was heard in the lunchroom on Wednesday. Thursday, caramels were dropped from a plane in support of "Chew'em Up Day". That evening a bonfire rally fired school spirit. Friday, the band, Spizzettes, queen candidates, and others participated in a parade through the downtown area. That night the Bulldogs were victorious. During halftime 26 floats, constructed by the homerooms were displayed, climaxed by the announcement of Homecoming Queen. Saturday night concluded the week's activities with the Homecoming Dance and the crowning of the Queen and attendants.

Other pep activities planned by the cheerleaders throughout the year added much color to the ordinary school day. Examples of this were seen on such occasions as Clash Day when students wore their clashiest clothes. Stomp'em Day revealed everything from cowboy boots to mukluks. On Mourning Day everyone dressed in black, mourned the defeat of the opposing team. Also, the sale of balloons advertised coming games. Community support of the games was shown through the formation of the Bulldog Booster Club composed of local businessmen.

Senior Lee Gilbert, was a strong supporter of Clash Day, as shown by his attire.

Dennis Cornwall, alias "Little Red Kimono Hood", is pursued by the nasty old dragon during halftime activities at the Kennwick game.

First place winner in the float competition, was Mr. Raine's Comprehensive Geometry class, with the theme "Bulldogs on the Ball"

Enliven School Spirit

Members of the Bulldog Booster Club, were the special guests at one of the early pep assemblies.

Busy workers toil long hours to complete the band float entitled: "The Only Thing That Stops a Bulldog."

Nampa hosted a novice debate on Oct. 10 during which Rick Brewster matched his skill against a visiting debator.

In the drama production of "Goodnight Carolyn" makes the perfect (?) burglar as Carolyn (Jane him to leave her her valuables.

"Speak-up" an eight minute Madrigal Opera was presented by the entire Choir during "Kittiwake Island". Pat Richmond, Pat Hicks and Linda Ratliff wait backstage.

Music and Speech Departments Entertain

The Speech and Music Department not only provide a class period for the study of the subject, they also perform outside of school on many occasions. These classes are band, choir, orchestra, drama, and debate.

This year Choir, accompanied by the orchestra, performed an operetta, "Kittiwake Island." The Choir also performed at different assemblies and at a Southern Idaho Conference Clinic. The Orchestra participated in SIC orchestra hosted by Nampa High School. The highlight of this session was a concert given in the evening. Nampa High Orchestra members with community and college orchestra members performed a fall concert. The Orchestra also holds its own concert each year. The Band performs at football games, assemblies, and other school and community functions. A special presentation produced by the band was the Swing Concert, "Theme Songs '64", featuring songs from well known movies.

The Drama class spends many hours perfecting plays that they present to the students and community. The first presentation was the three one-act plays. "A Private Affair", "Goodnight Carolyn", and "Kitten in the Elm Tree" The three casts competed to go to District 3 One-Act Play Festival. The winners, "A Private Affair" cast, received a superior rating there. The other production sponsored by the drama department was the spring play, "January 16".

Debate spent long hours preparing for competition among schools. This year Nampa was hosts of several debate tournaments. Our debators also traveled to other high schools and colleges. Each time they brought home honors.

Nampa High's gym was filled with students practicing for S.I.C. Orchestra which was held on December 5, 1964.

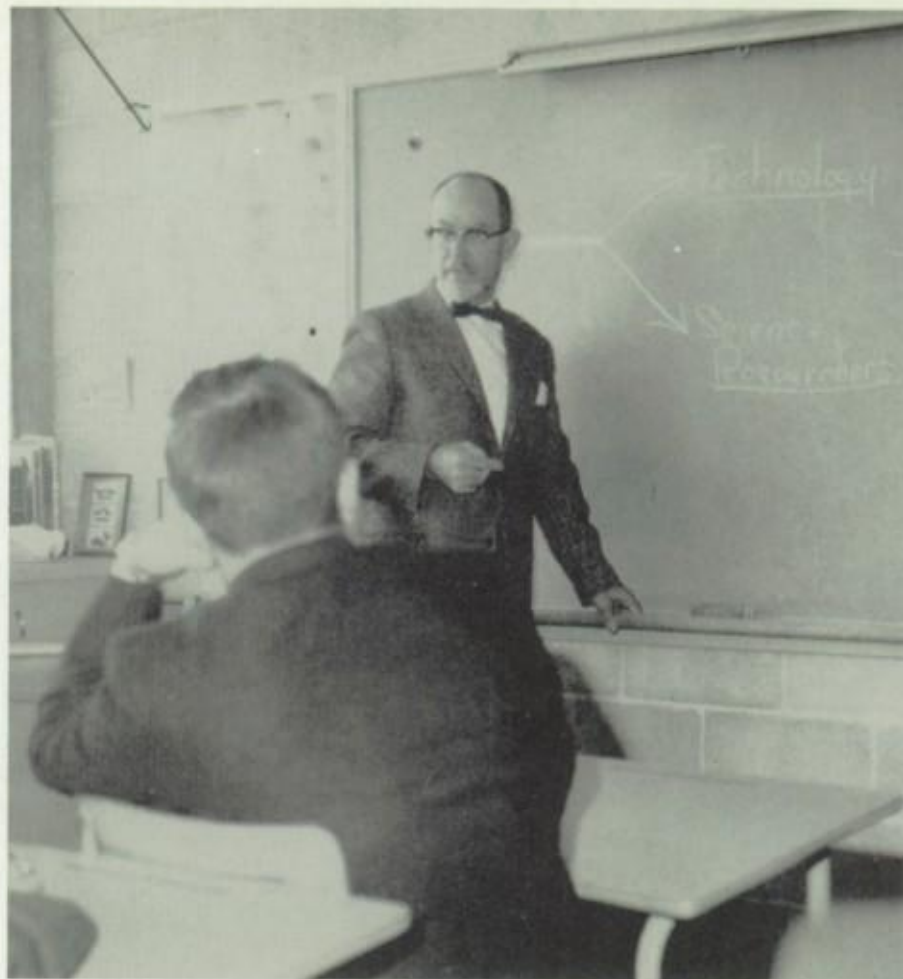

In "A Private Affair" problem child Elvira (Connie Ferdinand) makes faces at her mother (Judy Kappleman) as a famous lady psychiatrist (Mary Ann Idom), center, tries to analyze the difficulties.

One of the features of the Swing Concert was the Dixie Land Band, featuring various band students.

Mr. Mathews, Career Day, points out the different vocational subjects offered to the students on that day.

Professor Lyle Stanford from C. of I., one of the Career Day speakers, explains the opportunities in biology to students.

Career Day Focuses on the Future

Career Day has become a yearly event at Nampa High school. Mr. Leo Mathews established it in 1949 and has made it one of the most comprehensive in the state. Laneal Allen, Elaine Liljenquist and Cathy Chadwick were the committee that planned Career Day this year.

Speakers from Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington were invited to speak to the students. A wide variety of subjects were discussed, covering almost every career. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, beauticians, and many others offered their time to further the education of NHS students.

Juniors and Seniors attended three sessions in the morning on the careers of their choice. The Sophomores attended special educational sessions.

Psychology students explained the qualifications and opportunities in psychiatry on Career Day.

Elaine Liljenquist, Laneal Allen, and Kathy Chadwick, student committee for Career Day, check last minute details.

The Nampa Chapter of National Honor Society has been on campus for 32 years. To uphold standards of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service is the purpose of this organization. Its 45 members have met the following requirements: (1) 3.33 grade point average, (2) top 15 per cent of Senior class, (3) meet approval of the faculty.

Faculty sponsor is Mrs. Aline Jones; officers are Warren Combs, president; Jane Rawlings, vice-president; Kay Lundquist, secretary; Deneise Cowley, treasurer; Craig Castagneto, historian. During this year Honor Society has done many things. They were hosts for National Education Week; they held an assembly and banquet for the initiation of new members; they ushered at Baccalaureate and Commencement; and they operated the coat check stand at all home basketball games.

Sophomores

Mrs. Winifred Mills

Class of 1967

The spirited Sophomores are under the leadership of Bob Van Hooser, president, Rick White, vice-president, and Sheryl King, secretary. To help guide them through their first year at Nampa High is their advisor, Mrs. Winifred Mills.

Promoting school spirit are the cheerleaders, Jane Farlow, Debi Marts, Diane Martin, Peggy Brown, and Karen Keim.

The class of 1967 has improved the Nampa High landscape. The class project consists of several plantings of new trees around the campus.

Twas the day before the deadline
And all through the place
No smile could be seen on
The editor's face.

"Juniors!" cried Toby at the top
Of her lungs,

"You've copy to write and
There are things to be done."

Somehow she found a job for Each one—

For Glenda and Judy and Karen and Carol,

For Linda and Don and Jane and Cheryl.

Just when we thought all our Problems were solved,

The books wouldn't balance,
Teresa resolved.

From the back of the room there
Arose such a clatter,

Diane shouted, "Oh, Glen,
What can be the matter?"

The action shots for Seniors
Just seem to be gone.

Quick! Take me some more and your job will be done."

So, Glen passed his camera to Don, Ben, and Dave,

And turned to tune in his radio Wave.

Jennette now discovered her Sports
Section due,

And told Dave, "Get one of the Basketball crew."

And then Carolyn turned from her
Typing to say,

"Pete, your Royalty section's
Due today."

Take a look at the scene, Mary
Pat is the one

Who has her section on clubs all Done.

So we talked a blue streak and
Went to our work

And Mrs. Gundersen made sure
No one would shirk.

There was a sigh of relief as we
Mailed the last page;

We had completed the work
On the '65 SAGE.

Growl

An exciting project for the seventeen members of the Growl staff is the sponsoring of half-time activities for the Homecoming Game and also sponsoring the Homecoming Dance. The Growl, which has been in existence for thirty-seven years, has the purpose of introducing faculty and students, communicating their services and activities, and entertaining its readers. Top staff members are Patty Blecha, Editor-in-chief; Ron Parsons, Assoc. Editor; Barbara Roberts, Bus. Manager; and Bessie Baker, adviser.

Editor Patty Blecha and Bessie Baker, adviser, search for a past issue of the Growl.

Bonnie Roberts, Growl Business Manager, carefully goes over the account book with the bills in hand.

Kathy Horton and Don Tiller argue over who took the better pictures for the Growl.

Gary Johnson smiles slyly as he works on a write-up for Growl.

Nampa School Board

The School Board Members and administrators are from left to right; Harry Mills, superintendent of schools, Larry Higgs, Miss Clarabelle Casler, clerk-treasurer, John Brandt, Dr. Warren B. Ross, Dr. Sam Taylor, and R. Baker Young.

Every second Monday night of each month, the Nampa School Board meets to discuss the business of running the school district.

Mr. John Brandt is chairman; Dr. Warren B. Ross is vice chairman. Other board members are Dr. Sam Taylor, Larry Higgs, and R. Baker Young. The administrative staff is headed by Superintendent Harry Mills; Miss Clarabelle Casler is the clerk and treasurer. All administrative staff, director of curriculum James Black, and school district attorney, James Schiller attend board meetings.

The functions and duties of the school trustees are to establish the educational policies of the school district. They determine personnel policies and select and employ the staffs. The board is also responsible for providing physical plants and for their upkeep. The board procures, disperses, and accounts for all monies spent by the district.

The five board members serve staggered three year terms. They are elected from each of the five trustee zones in the district and serve without pay.

Superintendent

Superintendent Harry Mills

Mr. Harry Mills, as Superintendent, is the chief executive officer of the School Board. He exercises general supervision over all the public schools. All school employees are responsible to him. His duties are administrative, supervisory, or delegated to assistants.

He is responsible for the maintenance and operation of all district 131 school buildings and grounds; he directs studies to determine the adequacy of the curriculum, and he acts as business agent for the board. In addition to his other responsibilities, Mr. Mills interprets the philosophy, aims, and objectives of the teaching program of the schools to the community.

Principal

Mr. Steck has been in the teaching and administration system in Nampa since 1939. He assumed the duties of principal at Nampa High on February 1, 1956. As principal Mr. Steck guides the Student Council, and assists the staff in evaluating the curriculum. He is responsible for the smooth functioning of Nampa High School.

Assistant Principal Vilas Brandt

Principal Wesley Steck

Assistant principal, Vilas Brandt began teaching at Nampa High in 1956. In 1963 he became assistant principal. His duties consist of administrating, disciplining, and counseling. Mr. Brandt also issues work permits and aids in issuing and collecting textbooks.

Counselors at Work

*Best wishes
Mrs. Jarvis*

The Counselors help the students, teachers and parents to understand scholastic and behavior problems. They interpret the student's problems to the personnel. It is the aim of the counselors to be impartial and unbiased in order to help the student to develop to his greatest potential.

Information concerning college requirements and applications, scholarships, and training beyond high school in all fields can be secured from the counselors.

The counseling staff has been enlarged to include Paul Johnson who is planning additional counseling services for Nampa schools. Other counselors include Geraldine Cruse, Edna Jarvis, and Leo Mathews.

Cooks and Custodians

The cooks work to prepare a pleasing, well-balanced meal for the students who eat in the lunch room. The food is prepared in a modern kitchen and is served at a nominal fee to the students during two lunch hours.

The pleasing appearance of our campus and class room buildings is due to the hard work of the custodians. These people work daily on the upkeep of grounds and buildings. They also spend summer months preparing the school for the coming school year.

English and Journalism

Comprehensive English II gives the student a background in sentence structure and vocabulary. Book report discussions on American classics further their literary knowledge. Speaking, reading, writing and listening are the basic principals learned in the regular classes. Novels by American authors, notebooks and daily assignments make up the curriculum.

Regular English III classes are encouraged to improve their grammar by reports and speeches in class. Preparation for more advanced work in English is presented. In the comprehensive junior English classes improved composition is encouraged by a required amount of writing due each week, a greater part of this writing is done in class. These students concentrate on American authors through their text and required reading.

Sharpens the Imagination

Comprehensive English IV classes work to improve composition and to increase greater reading interpretation. Regular English students receive grammar and literary instruction which will help them with college or vocations. English authors are studied through book discussion panels and text.

An increased opportunity for written expression is offered to students in Journalism courses. Students working on the annual publication, Sage, learn the proper method of compiling and editing a yearbook. Journalism students edit and publish the sixteen issues of Growl each year. Selected writings from all English classes are combined into one literary publication each year.

Blend Facts and Exactness

Advanced Math and Advanced Algebra are preparatory courses for college and life. Proficiency in the manipulation of numbers, lines, points, and the development of logical thinking are mandatory for understanding higher math.

The study of geometry encourages reasoning power. The student acquires knowledge of geometrical figures such as triangles, parallel lines, circles, polygons, and theorems. Power to analyze a given situation is another important gain.

Consumers Math and Algebra I students are prepared for everyday life or further study of mathematics by blackboard demonstrations, question-answer drills, and problem solving in the class room. Frequent tests and special reports measure student progress.

Self discipline and the ability to concentrate and to organize ideas are vitally important to the learning of all math.

Laboratory experiments in chemistry supplement the material read in class. A basic knowledge of compounds and elements increases understanding of the composition of matter. Lectures, discussions, and tests help to clarify the substance of the text.

A better understanding of the mechanics of life and the laws of motion are gained through the study of physics. The course deals with measurement and volume which requires knowledge of math. Films, lectures, discussions, and laboratory work give the student a better understanding of the fundamentals of physics.

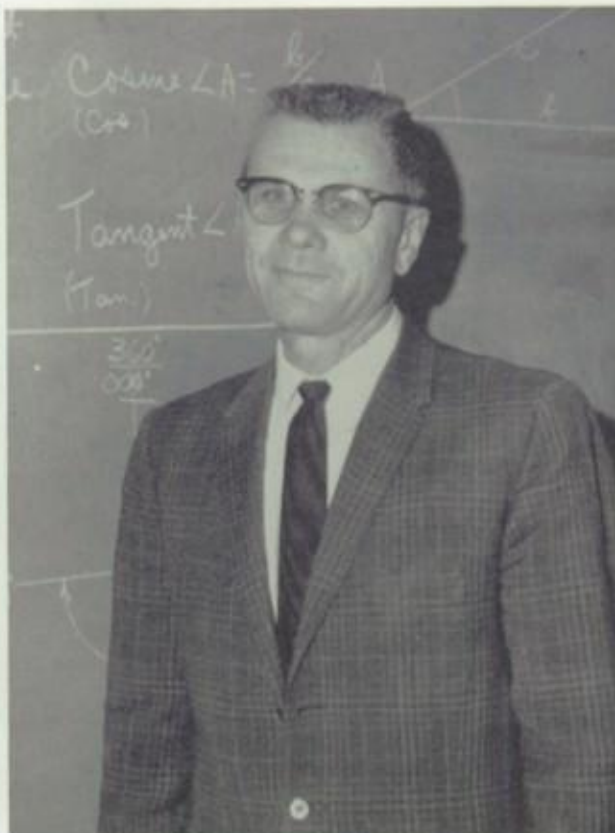

To create an appreciation for nature and the world of living things is the aim of the biology classes. Students begin the study with the simplest form of living matter and continue through the most complex form. Notebooks, tests, insect collections, and films advance the study of biology. Live specimens and laboratory work stimulate interest, also.

Foreign Language Cultivates International Awareness

The ability to read, write and converse well in a foreign language is the goal of the department. Cultural background knowledge of the countries where the languages are spoken is gained.

French and Latin classes deal with the structural patterns and vocabulary of the languages. Memorizing basic sentences and carrying on conversations assist in comprehension.

A new method of teaching called "aural-oral" is used in the German classes. This method consists of speaking and listening.

Participation in class drills and dialogues help to achieve a working knowledge of the Spanish Language. Special reports on holidays and festive occasions give more meaning to the traditions. Film strips, record players, tape recorders, and portable language lab are some of the tools available and used extensively in the Language Department.

the Art of Communication

The purpose of speech and debate is to teach the importance of careful research and enables students to defend various points of view in oral communication. Speaking ability is developed through the use of tape recordings, by making public speeches, and participation in tournaments.

Drama I introduces the student to the techniques of acting, the essentials of basic stage makeup, and the history of the theatre. Drama II explores these areas more fully and also instructs the student in classic drama and gives him more experience in acting.

Practical experience is the most important tool used in teaching drama. Filmstrips, texts, and various play scripts are also used.

Stimulate Natural Ability

The Music and Art Departments strive for development of natural talents through class instruction.

The Art Department encourages creativity and art appreciation developed through an understanding of art. The purpose of the class is to provide training for those who wish to pursue art as a career and to improve the culture of the students.

The Art Department is called upon to provide murals and posters for high school activities. Silk screening, sketchings, chalk pictures and portraits are featured in the display case.

The main purpose of Orchestra and Choir is to perform the best in musical literature. Discipline of perfecting a fine musical performance is acquired by these students. Choir and Orchestra appear at the operetta, holiday assemblies and graduation exercises.

Band teaches the students concentration and discipline which is essential to the performance of good music. Marching band, stage band, and pep band are designed to lend atmosphere and background music to school functions.

Vocational Courses

Train for the Future

Mechanical and Architectural drawing classes develop a degree of specialization for both pre-college or pre-vocational students. The students plan, organize and complete drafting problems to a fine degree of perfection. They learn to read and interpret blueprints. The drawings must be neat, accurate and completed swiftly.

The Agricultural department equips the students to make a living for themselves in agricultural or one of its related fields. Crop rotations, farm mechanics, financing, fertilizers, animal husbandry, and parliamentary procedure are discussed and studied in class. Records are kept of agricultural home projects.

Industrial Arts help develop a degree of skill as they solve problems with tools, materials and products of industry. Electricity and electronics, drafting, metal and wood working are the courses of study. In the woodshop the students make tables, cabinets and various other wood products.

To exhibit a high degree of skill in the uses of metal is the goal of machine shop. The students work towards a very close degree of accuracy in the class.

Physical Education

Disciplines the Body

The athletic department strives to teach the boys knowledge of sports, how to get along with one another and better sportsmanship. The boys who participate must not only be physically fit but have a desire to do their best.

Boys' Physical Education classes begin the year with flag football and then go into the Five Star System. The program consists of 100 yard dash, 880 relay, shot put, high jump and broad jump. These activities test the boys' speed, endurance and strength. Records are kept in each event. The boys participate in volleyball, basketball and wrestling throughout the year.

Good physical condition is essential for carrying out a day's activities. The Girls' Physical Education classes strive for physical fitness through a schedule of volleyball, speed ball, basketball and badminton. Good sportsmanship and team cooperation are important in developing physical fitness in this class.

Cross-Country

The cross-country team's second year proved to be very successful. They competed in meets with the larger schools in the area. The purpose—to improve spring track achievement through extra training—showed results this spring. Four boys broke the previous school record of 11.8 in the two mile—Jay Jensen (10:21.5), Allen Motichki (10:59), Mike Schaifer (11:0), and Rod Watkins (11:8). These boys, along with Marlin Kuhn, Jim Pena and Jim Rowell, received the first letters given for cross-country.

Royalty

Faculty King and Queen

Faculty King and Queen Lyle Lubiens and Mrs. Margaret Dunbar were chosen this year for their outstanding teaching ability and all-around geniality. Mr. Lubiens teaches physics and spends many hours outside the classroom advising the Key Club. Mrs. Dunbar, Nampa High's Spanish instructor, also does an excellent job as Junior Class Adviser. Our appreciation goes to these two for their dedication.

Daughters of the American Revolution

Daughters of the American Revolution Essay Contest was won this year by Kay Lundquist. Each contestant submitted an essay for judging to the Daughters. The essay stressed American values and freedoms.

Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow

Wanda Sheets Maglecic has proven her outstanding ability in the Home Economics field. She has been named Nampa Senior High School's 1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She scored highest in a written homemaking examination taken by senior girls and is eligible for state and national honors.

Closing

Another school year has drawn to a close, leaving behind many rewarding hours at Nampa High School. We, of the Sage Staff, hope that the 1965 Sage will in some way accent special memories of this year.

The Sage would not have been completed without the support and assistance of many people. The administration and faculty, the business and professional people, parents, and students of our community have helped to make this yearbook possible.

Senior staff members have spent many hours working on copy and layouts to produce the 1965 Sage. Senior staff members of the Sage were Peter Bedegi, Jennette Day, Diane Fairchild, Carolyn Helwege, Mary Pat Stearns, and Teresa Vauk.

The Junior members working on Sage were Karen Beal, Cheryll Bean, Judy Chandler, Jane Cooke, Lynn Edwards, Linda Flitton, Carol Hasbrouck, Don Miller, and Glenda Reed. They have been of great assistance throughout the year while they were learning the process of yearbook production.

Photographers: David Ferdinand, Ben Moore, and Don Rich under the direction of senior photographer, Glen McKnight, have spent many hours catching the events at Nampa High. Kathy Horton, Growl photographer, deserves a thank-you for her pictures used in the Sage. Our commercial photographer, Ellis Chapin, also deserves a vote of thanks for his contribution.

Mrs. Gundersen as our adviser was always present to lend her support and help with our problems. We all appreciate her wonderful assistance.

To all that I have mentioned goes my deepest appreciation for all that you have done toward the preparation of the yearbook.

Sincerely,

Tobruk Collinsworth
Sage Editor

Bonnie,
It has been a great pleasure to know you this year. You are a very sweet Christian girl.
I do hope you and Dave will always keep in touch well.
I will remember you in my prayers always. I do hope we will see something of each other this summer.
If not please write to me and tell me all about you and Paul. I do wish you a very happy married life. I believe you have my address.
If not look in the Phone book. May God be with you always.
Love through Christ,
Gillian Klapel

Bonnie,
Remember the fun
we had in Lout Always stay just the way you are.
Dale

Bonnie,
Remember all the fun
we have had together these past few years.
Love you to a real
sweet kid.
Love ya
Pat.

Dennis Mitchel and Jack Bruck struggle during one of the Drama department plays.

Several seniors make their last few days at N.H.S. enjoyable ones.

New Sage members, Elaine Caba, and Karen Slusser work hard at the Exchange Club booth selling concessions for the High School Rodeo.

Randy Davis, graduating senior, tries his skill on a skateboard.

You say you are going to start a newspaper stand!

Marsha Killian, Lynn Heaps, and Jane Cook are victims of a hypnotism assembly.

The Nampa High Choir under the direction of Winfield Kircher performs for the Easter assembly.

AT N.H.S.

Dale Van Hooser shyly accepts a gift from Miss Stark. Dale is the outgoing president of A.V.A.

The refreshment tables, placed behind a crepe paper screen, were very popular.

Prom - '65

Carl William's Band provided dreamy music for the Prom.

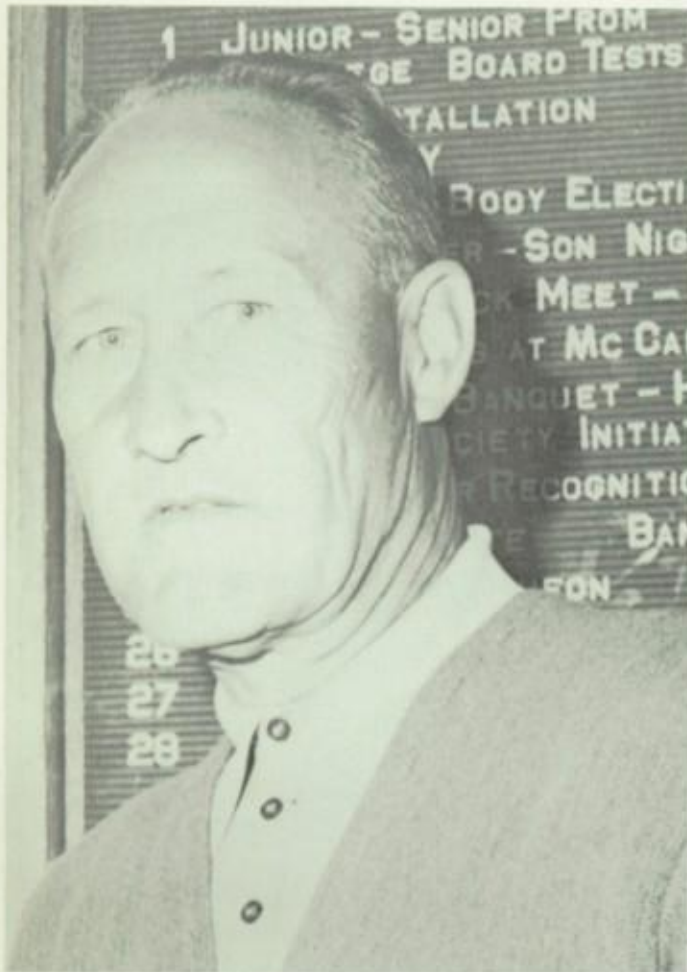

The chairmen of the committees, seated: Kathy Keim, Dixie Pedigo, Marva Miller, Judy Ward, Pat Williamson, standing: Karen Beale, Carol Has Brouck, Sonja Peterson, Phyllis Warnock, Jane Cooke, and Kathy Horton.

"Climb Every Mountain," was the theme of the annual Junior-Senior Prom held on May 1. The gym was beautifully decorated with green and yellow crepe paper featuring a false ceiling of trellises entwined with carnations. The Mural (pictured above) set the theme of the evening. During intermission, entertainment was provided by "Les Chansonettes," a girl's singing quartet.

Nampa High Loses Head Coach

Coach Jerry Dellinger

Nampa High will have a new athletic director, head football coach, and head basketball coach in 1965-66, because coach Jerry Dellinger is leaving Nampa High to become assistant football coach and swimming coach at Idaho State University.

Coach Dellinger's first coaching job was at Montpelier, Idaho; from there he went to Rupert and after that to Nampa in 1940 until 1945. Then he went to Portland; then to Jerome, which he considers his home town. He came back to Nampa in 1959.

In the past six years coach Dellinger has had a fine record in football and basketball.

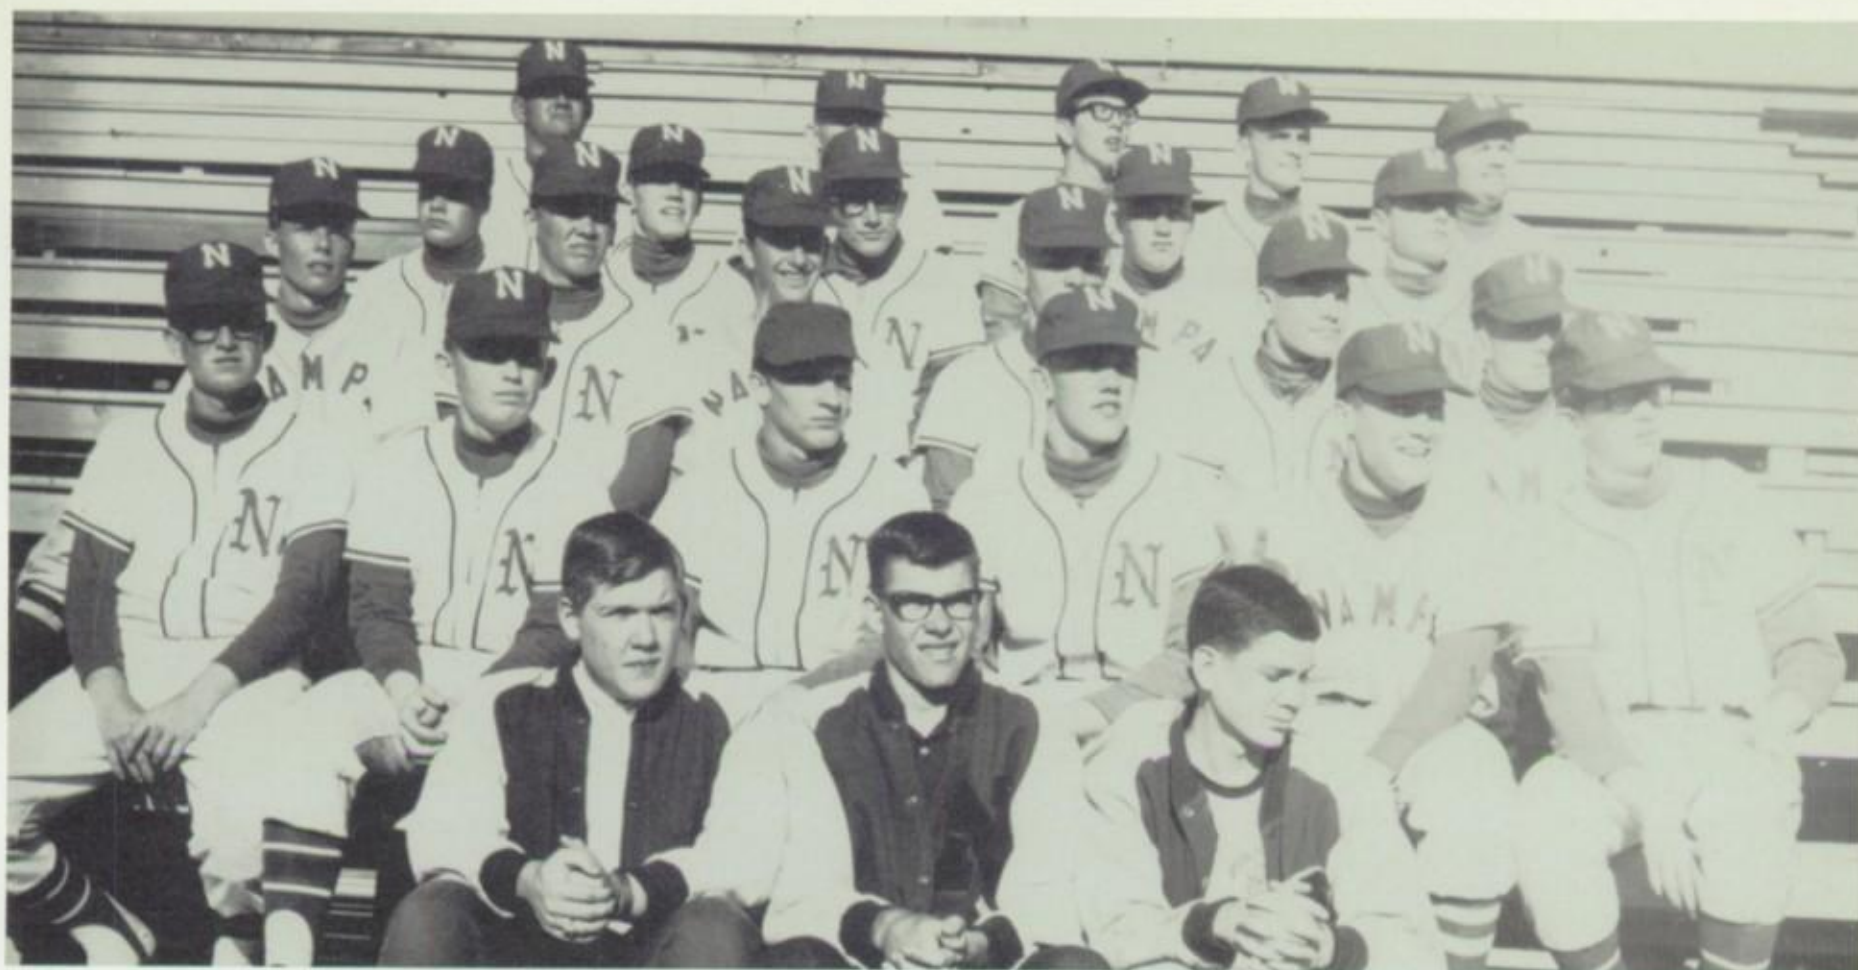

Golf

First row: Bill Venn, Danny Rodwell, Bill Lofholm, Mike Bowen, Second row: Dan Caldwell, Bob Fuller, Don Spencer, Tom Baird,

Although the golf team lacked experience this year, they improved gradually throughout the season and had a fairly good record. At present prospects look good for next year.

The baseball team started the season well this year, winning eight games in a row. At first the team was sound in every department; however, in the next ten games the team won only one game. The defeats resulted chiefly from errors. Leading hitters were Joe Schmitt, Ron Neil, and Eldon Book.

Baseball and Tennis

row: Dan Coker, Dean Johnson, Ron Robertson, Bill Price; Fourth row: Krag Nydegger, David Boehlke, Larry Bledsoe, Steve McFarland, John Martin and Kenneth Clark.

The tennis team improved greatly throughout the season, which was highlighted by a sixth place finish in the state tournament. The boys team was led by Dean Johnson, a junior, and the girls team was led by Marilyn Vail, a sophomore.

Track

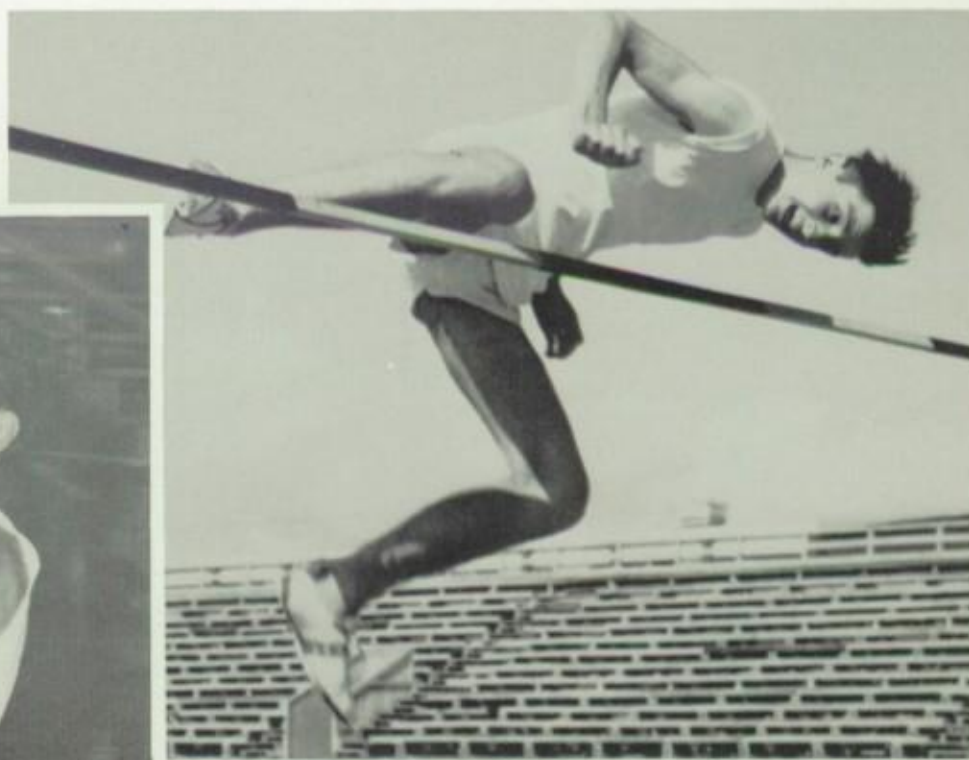

Dick Hazen hands off to Allen Frisk in one of Nampa's best events—the 440 relay.

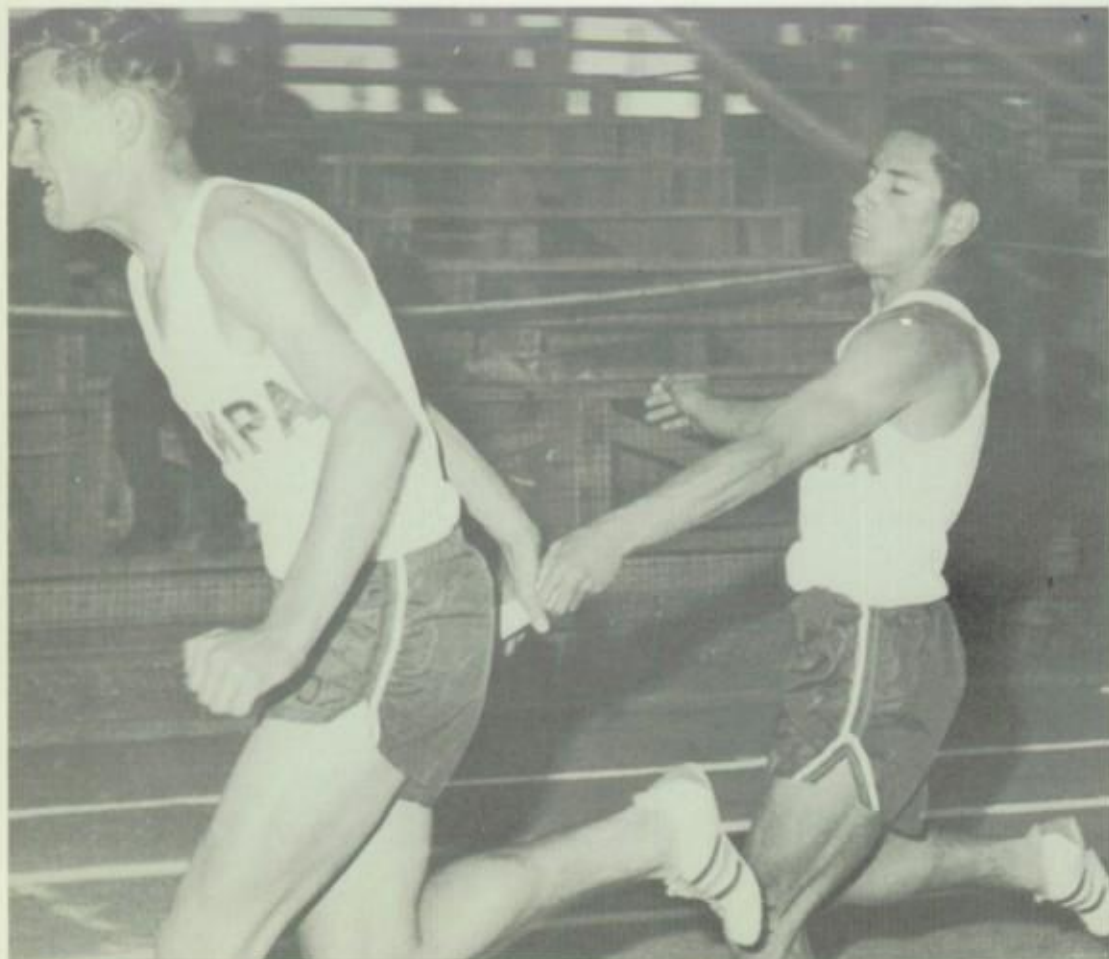

Marlin Kuhn strains to finish in his specialty, the two mile run.

The track team was strong in the sprints and 440 relay this year and gradual improvement was made in the field and long distance running events. The team was led by seniors; Dick Hazen, Danny Seamons, Allen Frisk, Bob Shepherd and Sophomore Don Conrath, Nampa's lone entry in the State Track Meet, who won the high jump.

Don Conrath shows the form he used in winning the state high jump.

Thoroughly exhausted Mack Lopez hands off to Ron Salter, who looks determined to win.

Seniors ready for entrance as the graduation hour draws near.

Preparation for graduation began early with the measuring of caps and gowns.

But Mr. Steck . . . !

Ron Penny finds that there is more than one way to get to graduation.

New members of Honor Society, Jim Lockhead, Jeannie Starr, Kathy Sanders, and Wanda Sheets are pictured with the society adviser, Mrs. Aline Jones.

Graduation

Many were in attendance at graduation exercises.

Hey you two, how about a ticket to commencement?
